Recaș wineries have been glad that Merlot has been considered a brand of the vineyard for many years. It constantly produces fine wines complex and packed with fruit aromas. The wines are fermented on the skins in tanks controlled by regular pumping of the fermenting wine to increase the extraction of the aroma from the skins. The timing of the pressing is critical to achieve a balance between the weight on the palate and the aroma. The extraction of the seeds is reduced to a minimum, and the aroma of the peel comes to the fore.

| Tasting notes |

Cherry red with violet reflections, good clarity. Intense aromas of red and black fruits (cherries, blackberries, cranberries), smoky hues. Good acidity, medium body, young tannins, good dynamics, with a slightly bitter and spicy finish. Balance between flavors, alcohol and tannins..
